SHERIFF EXPRESSES VIEW ON MEETING OF KU KLUX KLAN

Statement of Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr., Sheriff of Hancock County, October 22, 1965

My office is receiving numerous protests from responsible citizens and Civic Organizations of Hancock County against the proposed Ku Klux Klan rally scheduled for Wednesday, October 27, where the Imperial Wizard, Robert Shelton, is to speak here. According to the newspaper account, the Hancock County Sheriff's Office has been asked to provide traffic control. I have not been contacted by anyone nor do I know anything about this rally except what I have read in the newspaper.

I want the people of Hancock County to understand that the Sheriff's Office has no right under the law to prohibit any peaceful assembly. We have, however, always enjoyed the best race relations in this County that can be found anywhere. I deeply regret that our area has been selected for this meeting of the Ku Klux Klan. As Sheriff of this County I cannot prohibit such meetings. However, I want to assure the people that this meeting is not sanctioned by the responsible citizens and Civic Organizations of Hancock County, and as Sheriff, I do not intend to participate in traffic control or any other face of the meeting.

Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr., Sheriff of Hancock County

HOSPITAL BOARD WANTS NURSING DIRECTOR OUT

The board of trustees of Hancock General Hospital Tuesday night requested the resignation of its director of nursing, Mrs. Marlene Hart, by Nov. 1.

The action was taken following filing of a complaint against hospital administrator Thomas O. Logue, by one of the staff physicians, Dr. A. K. Martinovich Jr., about a week ago.

The complaint arose from a controversy which concerned alleged deficiencies in the hospital's operation, Dr. Martinovich said.

Board attorney Sam L. Favre Jr., said the board Tuesday night directed Logue, if Mrs. Hart did not submit her resignation by Nov. 1, to remove her from the staff. In addition, the board further instructed Logue to take steps to rectify certain conditions at the hospital, Favre said.

The board also removed the privilege of employing and dismissing certain technical personnel from the administrator and vested this power to the board, he noted.

Other steps included that the director of nursing should be recruited from outside the local area and an operating schedule should be established for doctors on call according to need, Favre said.

MISSISSIPPI BUSINESS ACTIVITY REFLECTS HEALTHY ECONOMY

UNIVERSITY, Miss. — Indicators of business activity in Mississippi during July and August are reflections of a healthy economy, according to the current issue of "Mississippi's Business," published by the Old Miss Bureau of Business and Economic Research.

Life insurance sales were up by 14 and 13 per cent, respectively, for the two months. The larger increases registered in August included 23 per cent for gasoline tax and 14.7 per cent for bank deposits. Cash farm income through July was running about 8 per cent ahead of a year earlier.

Manufacturing employment in August was up nearly 11,000 or 7.5 per cent from August of 1964. This gain was over one-half of the gain reported in total nonagricultural wage and salary employment which was up nearly 20,000 in August from a year earlier. The Employment Security Commission (source of employment data) says that "Mississippi's economy is showing increases judged by current employment trends."

Increases were also registered in sales and use tax and in timber severance tax. The only decrease was registered in oil severance tax. This was down by two per cent.

ANTI-POVERTY PROGRAM MAKING RAPID PROGRESS IN COUNTY

Plans for an anti-poverty program in Hancock County made rapid progress last week when Dr. Charles C. Mosely, Jr., Program Director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, helped lay the groundwork for the program in a speech before the Community Relations Council.

The OEO official told the Council's executive board that the local organization must be a "broad umbrella" under which the many components of the poverty can function. This approach, combined with utilization of existing community agencies will eventually result in a total attack on poverty, he said.

Mosely, who is also national consultant for Project Head Start, said the pre-school education program is one of the most important aspects of the poverty program. He promised that group that he would be willing to walk an applicant for Head Start all the way to Washington, if necessary.

He referred to the current investigation of Mount Rushmore Project Head Start regarding misuse of funds, as an unfortunate part of the growing pains of a pioneer project. But, he said, this does not detract from the success of the program, or its importance to community uplift that "will reflect credit to all."

The board of directors of the Council, headed by the Reverend James Peters, agreed to begin an immediate survey of county needs based on various facets of the anti-poverty program, including occupational training for adults, several day care centers, and pre-school education.

Mosely, whose regional office is in Atlanta, Ga., told the Council that anything you are bold enough to justify, we will support with federal funds.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Harper from Jackson also attended the meeting. Harper, who is associate secretary of the state YMCA, is also a trustee for the Gulfside Methodist Assembly. He offered the facilities of the conference grounds in Waveland for any part of the program the Council may set up.

The Hancock County Community Relations Council, formed early this year, has submitted an application to the state for a charter. Its membership is steadily growing, according to Frank Oppedisano, Treasurer.

NOVEMBER 1ST IMPORTANT TAX DATE FOR PUBLIC

Mississippi employers were reminded today that November 1, 1965, is an important tax date. District Director of Internal Revenue, Mr. J. C. Martin, Jr., said it is the deadline for reporting and paying income tax withheld and social security taxes for the calendar quarter ended September 30, 1965.

Employers should use Form 941 to report their tax liability for that period, and mail it, along with depositary receipts and full payment of taxes due to Jackson, Miss.

Mr. Martin said that taxpayers who made timely deposits of taxes due for the quarter in a Federal Reserve Bank or an authorized commercial bank have until November 10, 1965, to file returns.

Circular E-7, "Employer's Tax Guide," which furnishes detailed information on the subject is available upon request from the Internal Revenue Service.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

A County-by-county inventory of Mississippi's outdoor recreation enterprises has just been released by the Mississippi Association of Soil and Water Conservation District Commissioners.

The inventory indicates that, exclusive of public facilities, there are a total of 1,084 recreation enterprises in Mississippi covering well over a million acres of land and 24,000 acres of water. More than 400 are privately owned, and operated for a profit. The remainder are non-profit clubs. Several cooperators with the Hancock County Soil Conservation District unloaded; guns and ammunition should be stored separately beyond reach of children and careless adults.

8. Never climb a tree or fence or jump a ditch with a loaded gun; never pull a gun toward you by the muzzle.

9. Never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water; when at target practice, be sure your backstop is adequate.

10. Avoid alcoholic beverages before or during shooting.

Did you know that tolling time is here and with a little colder weather, trout for speckles and bass will be the order of the day?

Following a hunting trip better clean and oil your gun, after each trip, especially when hunting where there is salt water. Vaseline is a good preservative to keep the gun from rusting.

The salt water spray will rust a gun pronto.

For those who like rabbit hunting the woods are full of them. The belief that rabbits shouldn't be hunted until after a frost we think is the balogna. Had a nice meal of rabbits the other night and they were delicious. Of course colder weather is preferable.

Luke Elliott, Tony Enterante, Bill Schurmann and Joe Glover made their annual trip to Leveille after reds and speckles. According to Luke, as usual they made a real trip. The reds and speckles were all good size and really put up a real fight.

Speaking of frogs, with the warm weather we have been having, some large ones were seen in water holes on the highways. A gig is all that is needed to get them. And are they good eating?

Next week we will give the hunting dates of all water fowl both in Mississippi and Louisiana. The seasons seem longer this year and according to reports there will be some good hunting in the making.

Mrs. John Griffin won the T. & F. Tournament held last Tuesday at the Pass Christian Isles Golf Club with low and net 31. She also won putts with 30.

According to the survey, Mississippi's privately-owned ponds (open for a fee) were fished 190,419 days during 1964. Lakes and streams in the same category were fished 313,773 days. Ponds owned by clubs enjoyed 63,945 days of fishing, and lakes and streams 113,842. These figures, however do not nearly equal fishing of public lakes and streams where more than 2 million visits were recorded (exclusive of those to State parks).

Add a million use-days on flood-water retarding structures and on noncommercial lakes and ponds, and 3 million use-days for swimming, boating, water skiing on both private and public lakes, and you have the staggering figure of well over 6 1/2 million use-days on the water.

Mr. Warren said it is obvious that Mississippi people like to hunt and fish. More and more are apparently enjoying nature study, strolling, and just plain loafing in scenic areas.

During 1964 more than 2 million use-days were spent in this last-named pleasant pursuit. One hundred thirty-six enterprises now in the planning stage include 73,332 acres of land to be developed for recreation, plus 17,236 acres of water. Some developers — both private, group and governmental — seem to think in terms of cottages and campgrounds.

Mississippians bent on fun in the out-of-doors can find 2,990 picnic places scattered over the state; 91 places especially designed for camping; 341 lakes or river landings where boats are available; 63 places to water ski; 104 areas in tabulations where horseback riding is the main attraction. In all, these facilities — public, club and private — enjoyed more than 15 million use-days during 1964. And this figure does not include 4 1/2 million days of recreational use reported for the Natchez Trace Parkway, and more than 1 million use-days at the 17 State Parks.

Mr. Warren says conclusions are premature at this time. Additional information will be needed. The purpose of the inventory was to collect information which the soil conservation districts and other agencies and groups can use in planning for future recreational development. Data was collected by county committees between January and June, 1965.

PERSONAL call

These days, our minds are as busy as switchboards! There are so many things to think about, at work, at school or at home. Even our leisure hours often require a lot of mental activity... and peace of mind seems very far away.

Yet peace of mind is possible for us all, when we turn to God for relief from the tensions of modern living. He is fully aware of all our problems and difficulties, and He is always ready to lead us to a greater serenity of spirit than we have ever known.

That is why, when we take a little time from our busy lives to attend church, we leave feeling refreshed and strengthened. We have shared in His divine gift of peace.

This Sunday, God's call to a new and certain way of meeting the pressures of life is a personal call... for you.

NOVEMBER — BUY MISSISSIPPI PRODUCTS MONTH

GOVERNOR PAUL JOHNSON signs official proclamation making November "BUY MISSISSIPPI PRODUCTS" month in Mississippi. With the Governor is Gene Triggs, secretary, Mississippi Marketing Council, the state agency charged with responsibility of sponsoring this statewide marketing program to acquaint Mississippians with the many high quality products now manufactured or processed in the state. Governor Johnson has requested all Mississippi Mayors to appoint local BUY MISSISSIPPI PRODUCTS committees to work with the Mississippi Marketing Council to make this one of the most successful sales activities in the history of the state.

views the makeup of the General Electric worldwide organization and of a generic product department. The concepts of materials management, a case study, and potential results of a well-managed, properly-engineered materials system are outlined by Teague. He then shows how the concepts, principles and techniques are being applied by his materials and logistics organization at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Mississippi Test Facility where GE-MTSO provides plant, technical and technical systems support to NASA, stage contractors and other users of the government-owned, contractor-operated test site. There follows a look at results to date, prospects for the future, and an invitation for discussion by seminar participants.
 Teague, a graduate in electrical engineering from North Carolina State College, was a Lieutenant Colonel of Infantry in World War II. He joined General Electric in 1946 and has served in key positions involving manufacturing, en-

AIR POLLUTION IN MISSISSIPPI DUE TO COTTON GINS

About 80 percent of Mississippi's air pollution is due to cotton gins without satisfactory controls, according to H. L. Vaughan, Director of Occupational Health and Factory Inspection for the State Board of Health.
 During the ginning season from 20 to 25 complaints a month come to the State Board of Health from citizens regarding air pollution from near-by gins.
 "The majority of the complaints we have investigated," said Mr. Vaughan, "are justified, such as air-borne particles of improperly incinerated cotton, clouds of dust and smoke, sticky lint and all emanating from gins."
 However, usually only one out of ten of these complaints constitute a health problem, according to the public health specialist.
 Most of them are nuisances and do not come under the authority of the State Board of Health.
 Instead, according to Mississippi's nuisance abatement law, the responsibility to deal with nuisances rests upon the municipality concerned.
 While the State Board of Health has no authority regarding nuisances without public health problems, Mr. Vaughan said his office would be glad to assist any municipality or gin in recommending the best methods of controlling the nuisances caused by gins.
 The number of complaints coming to the State Board of Health is increasing with each ginning season.
 Mr. Vaughan said that the increase is due to the manner in which the cotton is picked. Today, approximately 80 percent of the cotton is picked with mechanical pickers which collect more trash and dust than when cotton is picked by hand.

 Therefore, the gins have more trash than formerly to dispose of in the ginning process.

BETSY AID OKAYED FOR MISSISSIPPI

Gov. Paul Johnson received word from President Johnson this week that an initial $400,000 had been authorized for Hurricane Betsy relief in Mississippi.
 "As you requested," the President's telegram said, "I have authorized an initial all location of federal disaster relief funds in the amount of $400,000 to effect the assistance authorized by my declaration of a major disaster in your state on Sept. 25."
 "Representatives of the Office of Emergency Planning will consult with you and assist in the execution of the necessary documents governing expenditure of the allocated funds."
 The funds are for counties along the Gulf Coast and in the southwest corner damaged by Betsy on Sept. 9-10. Estimates were that damages were in the tens of millions of dollars.

In Jackson, Governor Johnson urged authorities in the affected counties to "expedite their damage surveys and work with the division of civil defense and the Office of Emergency Planning" to speed distribution of funds.
